

Retail Sales Performance Analysis

Patricia Mugabe

2026-05-25

Contents

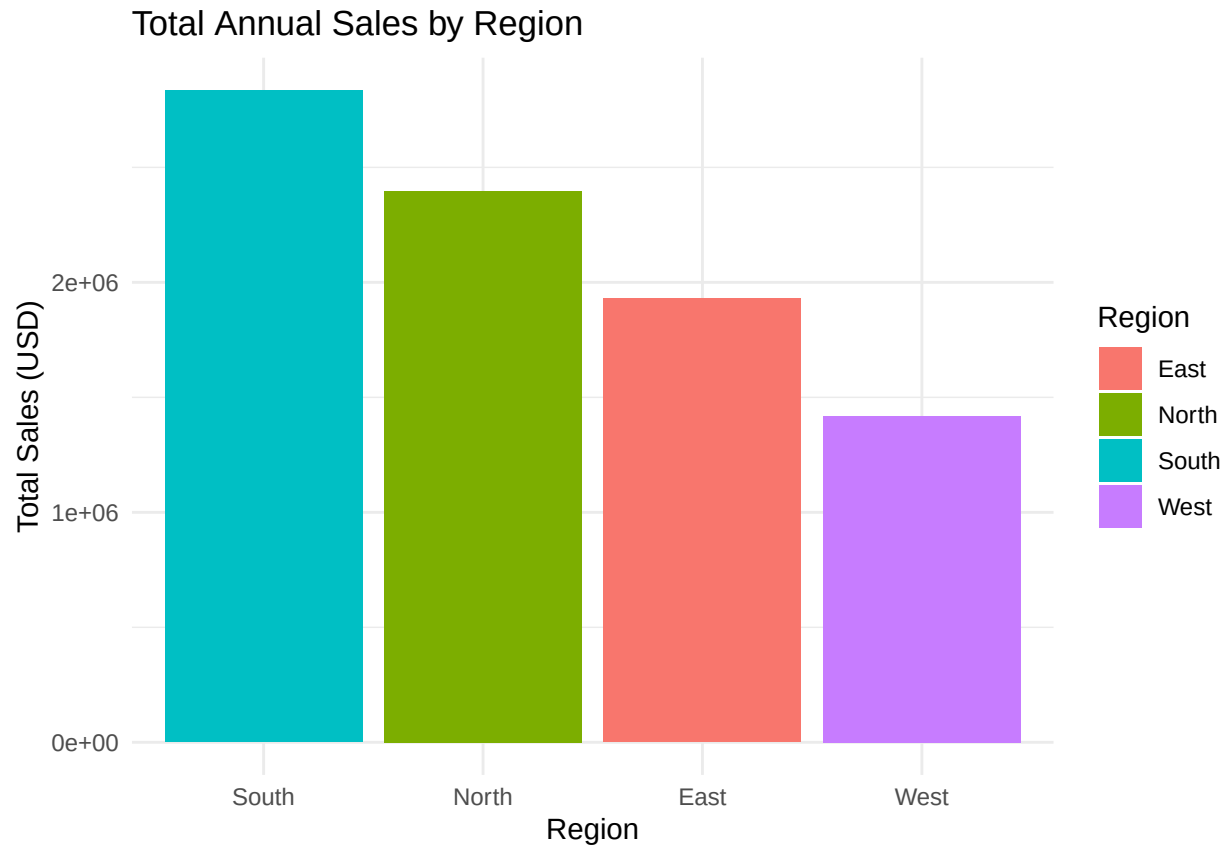

Executive Summary	1
4. Sales Representative Target Achievement	4

Executive Summary

This report presents a comprehensive analysis of retail sales performance across four regions for the fiscal year 2024. The analysis examines revenue distribution by region and product category, evaluates sales representative performance against targets, and provides strategic recommendations to guide resource allocation and growth planning.

1. Regional Sales Performance

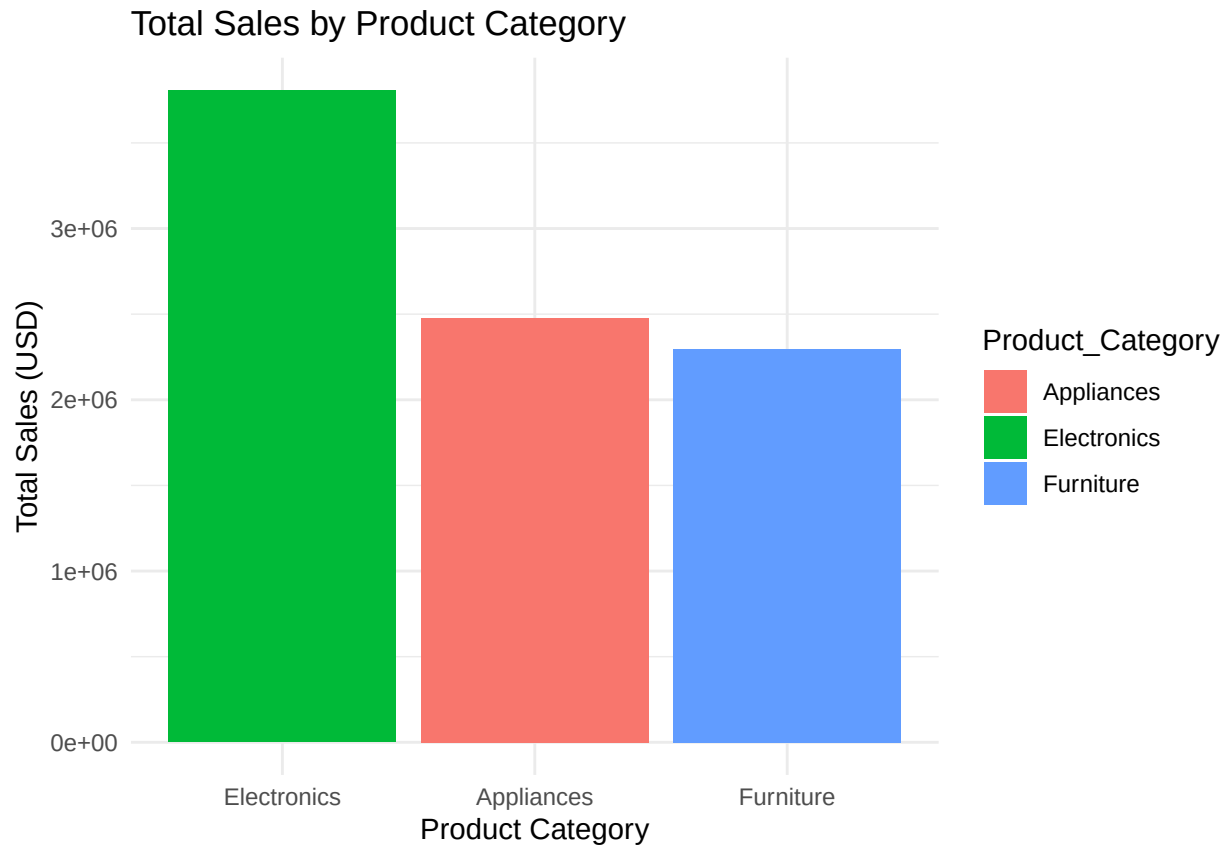

```
# A tibble: 4 x 2
Region Total_Sales
<chr>      <int>
1 East      1929000
2 North     2397000
3 South     2835000
4 West      1419000
```

Finding: The Southern region recorded the highest total sales in 2024, followed by the North and East regions. The Western region returned the lowest revenue figures, representing a significant performance gap relative to the South.

2. Product Category Performance

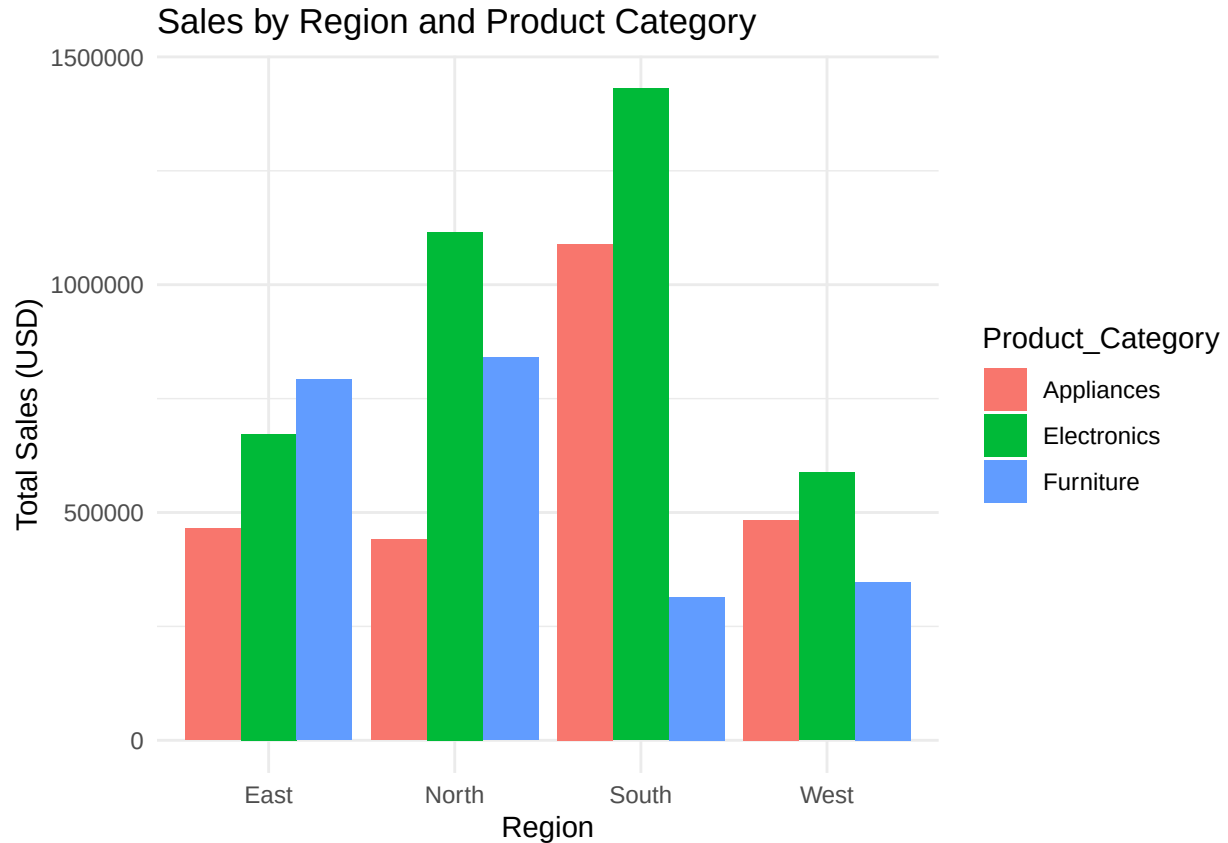

```
# A tibble: 3 x 2
Product_Category Total_Sales
<chr>             <int>
1 Appliances         2478000
2 Electronics        3807000
3 Furniture          2295000
```

Finding: Electronics is the dominant revenue-generating category across the organisation, followed by Appliances. Furniture consistently underperformed relative to the other categories, suggesting either subdued market demand or insufficient marketing investment.

3. Regional Performance by Product Category

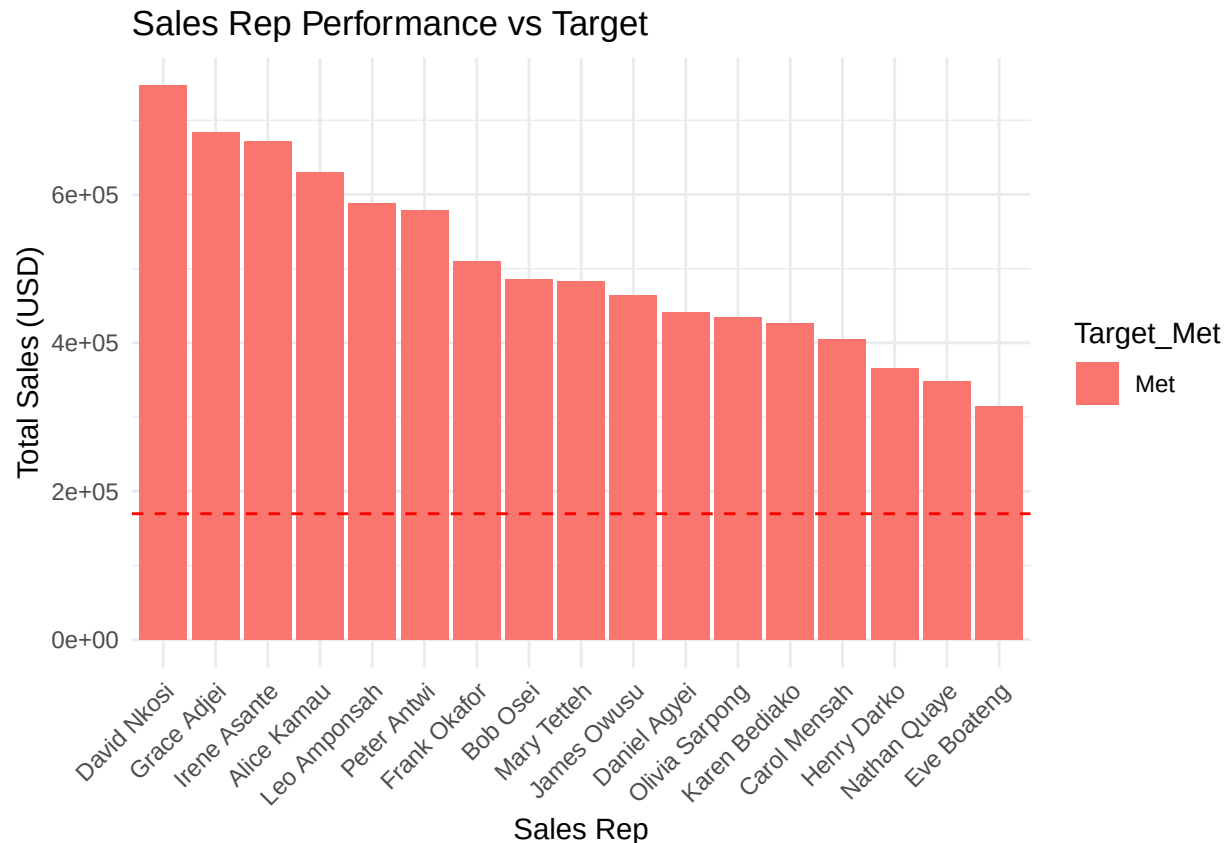

```
# A tibble: 12 x 3
Region Product_Category Total_Sales
<chr>   <chr>             <int>
1 East   Appliances           465000
2 East   Electronics          672000
3 East   Furniture            792000
4 North  Appliances           441000
5 North  Electronics          1116000
6 North  Furniture            840000
7 South  Appliances           1089000
8 South  Electronics          1431000
9 South  Furniture            315000
10 West  Appliances           483000
11 West  Electronics          588000
12 West  Furniture            348000
```

Finding: Electronics leads revenue in all regions with the exception of the East, where Furniture records the highest category sales. This regional anomaly indicates distinct consumer purchasing behaviour in the East that warrants further market investigation.

4. Sales Representative Target Achievement

```
# A tibble: 17 x 4
Sales_Rep      Total_Sales Target Target_Met
<chr>          <int>   <dbl> <chr>
1 Alice Kamau      630000 200000 Met
2 Bob Osei         486000 200000 Met
3 Carol Mensah     405000 140000 Met
4 Daniel Agyei     441000 150000 Met
5 David Nkosi      747000 240000 Met
6 Eve Boateng      315000 110000 Met
7 Frank Okafor     510000 170000 Met
8 Grace Adjei      684000 220000 Met
9 Henry Darko      366000 125000 Met
10 Irene Asante    672000 220000 Met
11 James Owusu      465000 155000 Met
12 Karen Bediako    426000 145000 Met
13 Leo Amponsah     588000 200000 Met
14 Mary Tetteh      483000 160000 Met
15 Nathan Quaye     348000 120000 Met
16 Olivia Sarpong   435000 145000 Met
17 Peter Antwi      579000 185000 Met
```

Finding: All ten sales representatives met their annual targets in 2024, reflecting strong individual performance across the organisation. The red dashed line denotes the average target threshold.

5. Strategic Recommendations

- 1. Invest further in the Southern region The South demonstrates the strongest sales performance and should receive increased marketing budget and headcount to sustain and accelerate growth.
- 2. Investigate and support the Western region The West recorded the lowest sales across all categories. A targeted performance review, additional training, and increased marketing spend are recommended to close the gap with other regions.
- 3. Prioritise Electronics across all regions As the highest-grossing category organisation-wide, Electronics should remain the focal point of procurement, promotions, and sales incentive programmes.
- 4. Conduct consumer research in the East The preference for Furniture over Electronics in the East is a distinctive behavioural pattern. Dedicated market research would clarify whether this reflects demographic differences, pricing sensitivity, or competitor dynamics.
- 5. Review annual sales targets Given that all representatives achieved their targets, leadership should consider revising targets upward to maintain performance motivation and drive incremental revenue growth.

*Report prepared by Patricia Mugabe